- Clear, objective and flexible follow-up system with our customer service
- Our overseas partners are just like us, professional
- Our block space agreements with our partners will make you feel comfortable
- Just relax and enjoy our sea freight solutions for your project cargoes as well

So What Is the Most Important Advantage of Sea Freight for You?

Of course, the biggest advantage of maritime transport in today's conjuncture is the cost advantage.

What Is the Most Important Disadvantage of Sea Freight?

Another disadvantage of sea freight is that the destinations served are limited to port areas, and the final transport costs are high unless you work with the right partner.

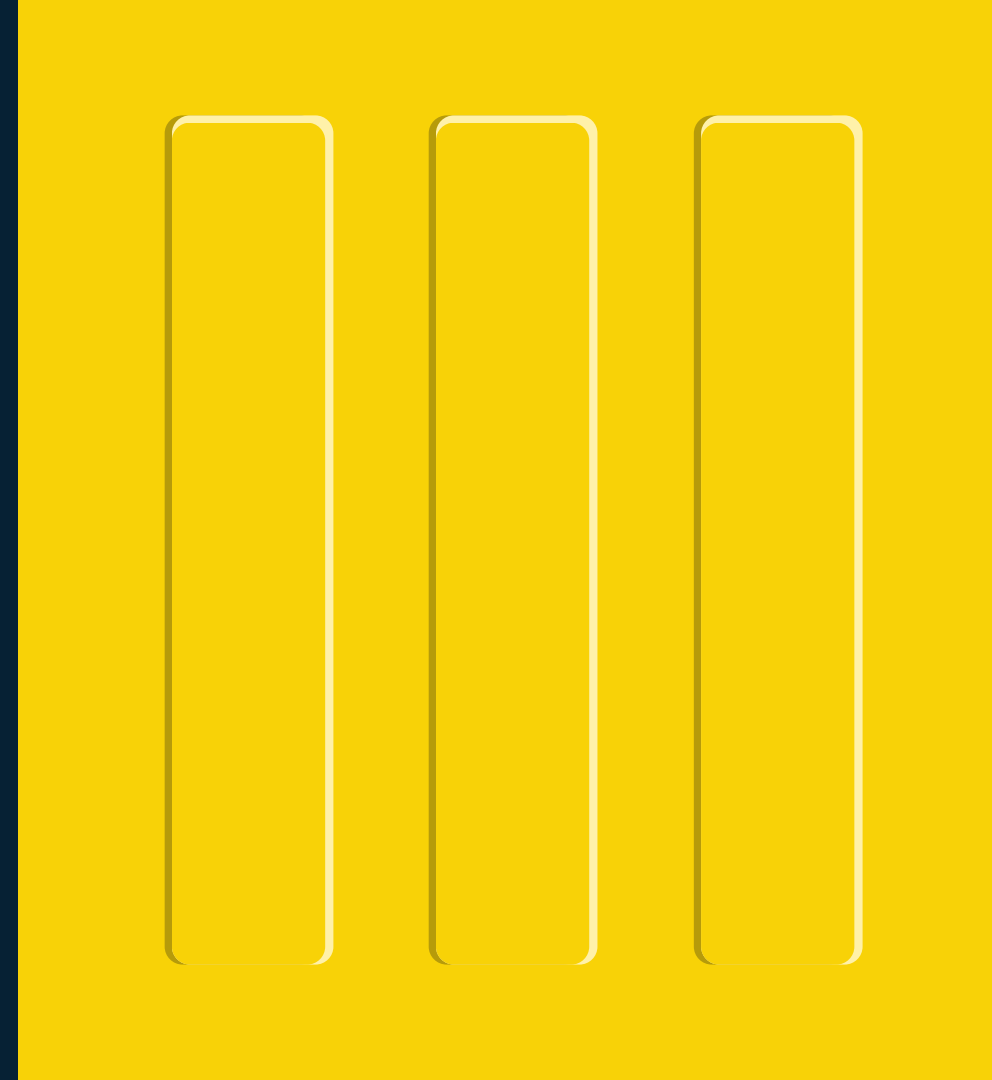

Air Freight Solutions

When time is of the essence, air freight solutions get your goods to their destination in a fast and secure way helping you meet market demands and customers' needs.

kailogistics.com

Air transportation is a mode of transport used for freight and passenger transport. It is preferred more because it is fast, safe, and flexible.

Competitive And Reliable Air Freight Solutions

Air freight forwarding is always a very complex and specialized procedure. Whether you are looking to export high-value products to international markets, or import goods to satisfy your client's requirements, we handle it all.

- Our relations with airlines will make you feel good about space allocations and rates
- With our consol offering; you will feel the best transit time
- Clear, objective, and flexible follow-up system, based on our customers' needs
- Tracking System with our customer service, real-time follow-up at anytime
- Long-time experience in customs procedures

Airline Cargo Transportation covers the types of cargo carried for different purposes such as import and export cargo, all kinds of project transportation, consolidated cargo, transit cargo, and valuable and worthless document transportation. These cargo types can be grouped under two headings as general cargo and special cargo.

General Cargo

No special service or storage conditions are required; These are non-perishable, dry, and clean cargoes that do not have the status of dangerous goods.

Special Cargo

- Dangerous Materials
- Perishable Materials
- Livestock Cargo
- Valuable Cargo
- Heavy Cargo
- Diplomatic Cargo
- Funeral Cargo

Intermodal Logistics

Sustainability is not a trend. It's a commitment to the planet and people. As a sustainable logistics company, KAI can enhance your international transport processes to be responsible with nature and reduce logistics contamination.

Intermodal logistics provides the advantage of reducing costs by optimally combining different modes of transportation. For example, by combining road, rail and maritime transportation, longer distances can be transported at lower costs. This helps businesses increase profit margins by reducing transportation costs.

Green Transportation is to measure the negative effects on the environment and try to minimize them as much as possible to carry out logistics activities in a way that causes the least damage to the environment.

Türkiye - Germany

Green Is Our Future

With consumers today showing a preference for retailers and brands that work to reduce their impact on the environment, green logistics is more than a talking point – it's a growing imperative.

- With our rail freight solutions from CN to EU; we target to reduce CO2 emissions in the world
- Our rail freight solutions will lower your costs
- Direct agreements with railway companies
- Iso tank container, flexi bags for your bulk liquid products
- Safer, cheaper and environmentally friendly fleet of iso tank containers
- Safety is our priority; that is why we implemented SHEQ standards in our operations

We Support The Green Logistics Process

Green Transportation has emerged with the awareness of environmental problems caused by global warming, which is increasing in the world, and together with the green world, companies that attach importance to services in this direction are increasing and as KAI Logistics, we support the Green Logistics process.

As we know, environmental problems are increasing day by day and natural resources are unfortunately decreasing. The beginning of these problems are packaging and wastes, solid and hazardous materials, carbon emissions, etc. Green Transportation helps to turn to the solution of these problems with the ever-developing technology and provides support for the ecological balance to be extended to new generations.

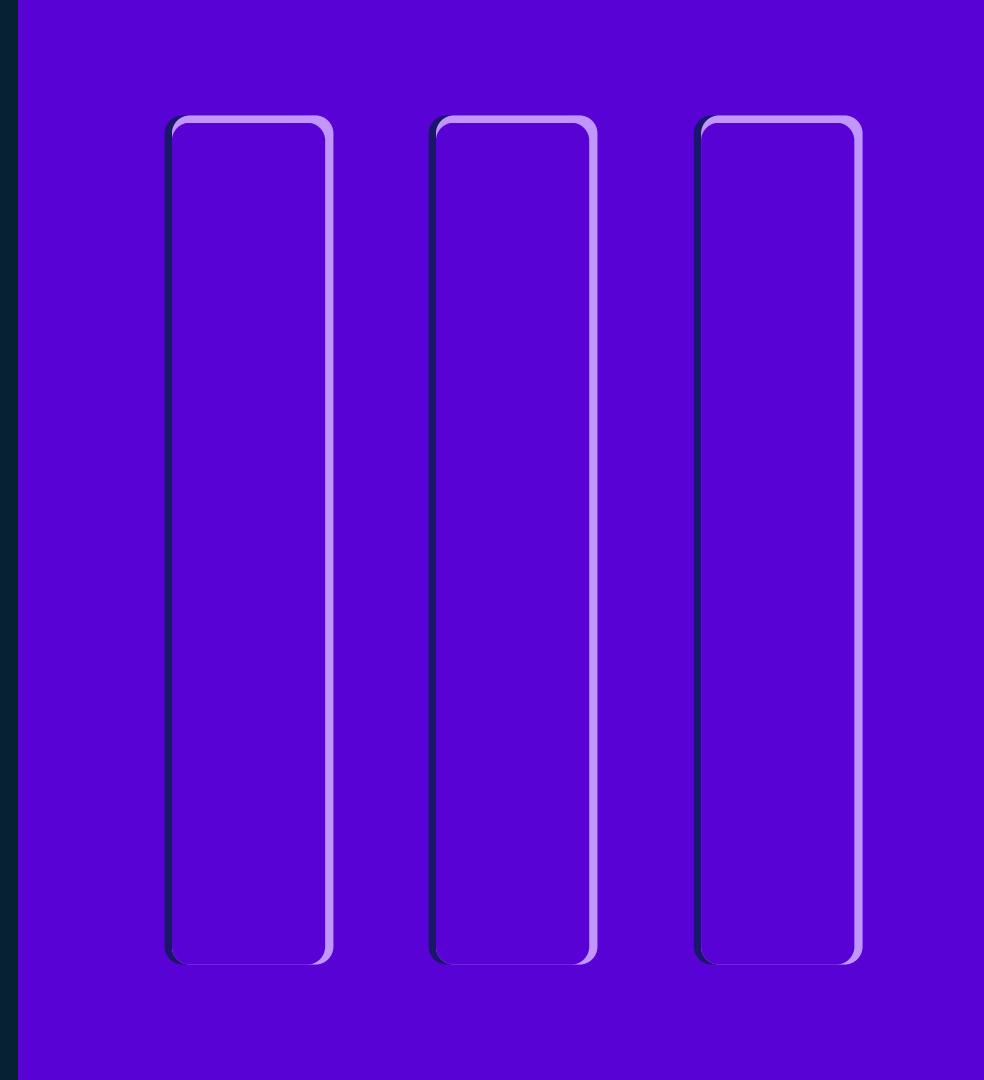

End-to-End Logistics Solutions

As end-to-end logistics covers the complete logistics cycle, starting with procurement and distribution, transport, delivery to the customer, and ending with return logistics, it means less worries for businesses.

kailogistics.com

Solutions in the end-to-end (E2E) distribution process is a fully integrated supply chain process that sees the end-to-end movement of products or various product types.

End-to-end Logistics Means Less Hassles For Businesses

Door-to-Door Solutions / Warehousing - Pick up - Final Delivery

- We suggest you concentrate only on your products and leave the rest to us
- Our exclusive contracts with warehouses will allow us to store your cargo safely
- Our overseas partners are just like us, professional
- Please stay in touch with our experts to learn the details of our general insurance policy
- Just relax and enjoy our door-to-door service until we ring your bell
- Safety is our first priority which is why we implemented SHEQ standards in our operations

E2E Solutions ensure reliable shipments, for example

Hospital equipment imported from TÜRKİYE should be delivered to a hospital in New Delhi on time. It will be difficult to track the goods movements. More LSP means more checkpoints, leading to the possibility of damage, also means higher probability of latency.

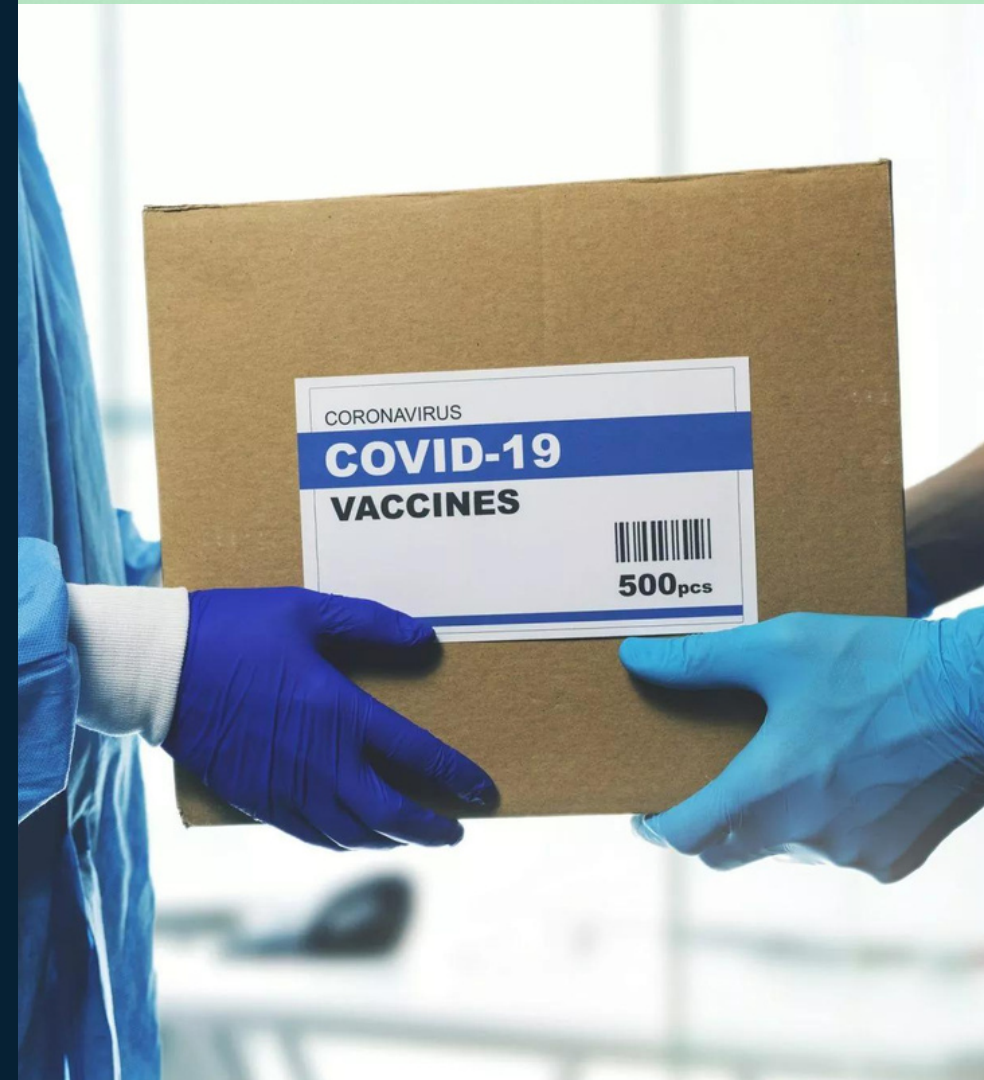

Solution- An end-to-end solution, with the transparency of all information as described above, can give you a timely, quality and quantity commitment until the shipment is delivered. This is because the checkpoint is one.

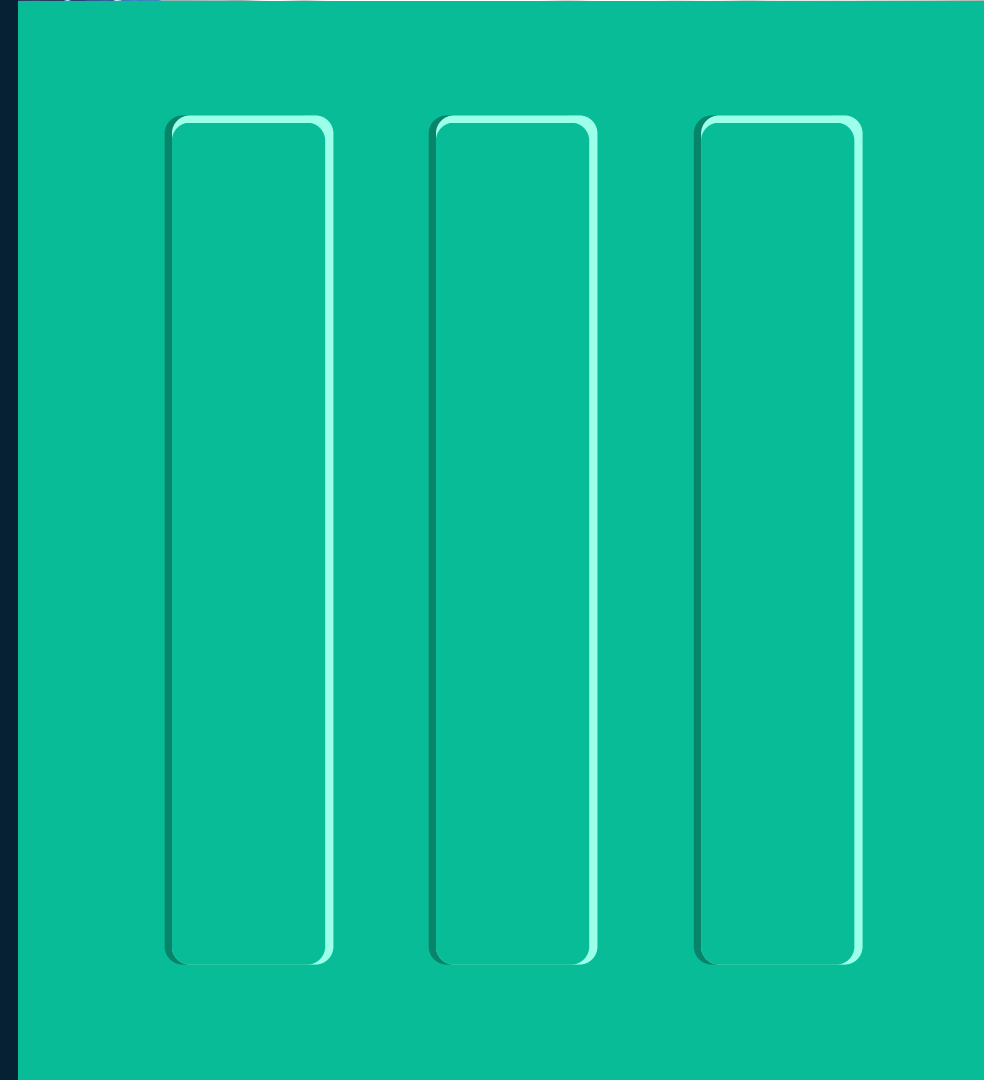

Healthcare Logistics

Whether you're a vaccine producer with specific transport requirements or the manufacturer of a high-tech, high-value medical device, you can trust us to help you on every step of the journey.

kailogistics.com

The importance and recognizability of the place of health transportation in logistics has increased especially in recent years.

Healthcare Logistics Management

We are aware of how important pandemic logistics is.
KAI values your health.

- Delivery on time for all types of ordered health products.
- Convenient and flexible operation process for a different kinds of equipment.
- Fast & Effective solutions for local regulations.
- The assistance of obligatory certificates for health products.
- Integrated operation management during the purchase, production & transportation process.
- Special space & equipment availability.

The Role of Logistics in Health Transportation

There are 4 factors that are important in health transportation. Speed, importance, right material and right place In this transportation, the importance of the material and the delivery time actually determine the whole process. It should be stored in an environment suitable for the protection and non-deterioration of the materials by providing the necessary temperature control.

Storage should be integrated with technology. Another important factor after the storage conditions of the material is the temperature conditions and cleanliness of the area where the transported material is located. Therefore, refrigerated transportation is at the forefront in health transportation.
